DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on July 20, 2004 has been entered.

Maintained Rejection(s)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-17 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The present specification fails to disclose the "unconjugated" large polycation as recited in the claims. The claims now recites adding an "unconjugated" large polycation in a sample to decrease interferences. However, the present specification fails to teach an "unconjugated" polycation. The present specification only teaches a large polycation.

Art Unit: 1641

It does not teach an "unconjugated" large polycation. Thus, one of ordinary skills in the art would not assume that such large polycation is an "unconjugated" large polycation.

Description of an "unconjugated" large polycation is required in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Siedel et al. (US 5,288,606).

Siedel teaches a process for determining of fructosamine in blood or samples derived from blood whereby non-specific reducing acting and/or turbidity-causing sample components are removed by adding a cationic detergent. Such detergents are linear or branched-chain alkyl or alkylaryl alcohol-polyglycol ethers with 8-20 carbon atoms in the alcohol moiety with 4-15 glycol units per molecule. Cationic detergents are unconjugated polycation. The assay is performed on a solid carrier. (see col. 6, line 18-col. 7, line 31).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed July 20, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Regarding the rejection under 37USC 112, 1st paragraph, Applicants argue that support for the "unconjugated" large polycations as recited in the claims is inherent in the specification.

Applicants have previously amended the claims to include an "unconjugated" polycation to overcome the prior art rejection (102(e)). Thus, "unconjugated" is a negative limitation which needs clear rather than inherent support in the specification. The specification must clearly describe the negative limitation added to the claims.
